

an introduction to Chinese Brush Painting

Friday August 11 at 1pm
Arts & Science Room

Learn to appreciate a simple flower or decipher an enigmatic landscape of mountain and water. Artist Pauline Tsui will demonstrate and teach simple exercises to break down this high art tradition into a fun everyday hobby. (please note: this is not a hands-on painting workshop)

Interactive Workshop Series

Save the dates for this three-part workshop, which will combine presentations on the history and motifs of Chinese painting with hands-on creation of finished works. All art materials will be provided.

Wednesdays 9/6, 9/20, and 10/4, from 1-3:30 pm.

Pauline Tsui has studied traditional Chinese brush painting since the age of 11. Later, she received a BA Degree in Practice of Art from Mills College and an AAS Degree in Design from Fashion Institute of Technology. She brings a sensitivity to her painted works that reflect both eastern and western influences.
